The universities today have re-imagined the purpose of internationalisation to address the changing social, civic and global trends. Therefore, apart from the economic aspect of internationalisation, universities in the 21st century have begun to pro-actively address the geo-political and socio-cultural issues that have sprung up as a result of and as a response to internationalisation of educational institution. The demands for quality teaching and learning experiences and the needs to empower students as knowledge seekers and contributors have positioned educators and policy makers at the forefront of innovation and knowledge sharing.

In 2017 IUP DEE Seminar with theme "Contextualizing the International Education Landscape in the 21st Century", we have 3 keynote speakers, they are:

1. Ms. Kerry Neuman, Principal and Curriculum Developer of Permata Bangsa International School.
2. Dr. Ekawati Dukut, Head of International Office of UNIKA Seogijapranata.
